Jude and Airstream. (Michael Sharkey)

Pimped-out cars are so last year. This time round, the trailer is having a moment. Design Within Reach has splashed out on an Airstream trailer for Sara Meltzer Gallery, so that one of its roster, the retro Americana-loving Jude Tallichet, can set up a roving exhibition that begins today. For the traveling show, "Career Retrospective as Charms for a Charm Bracelet," the artist has shrunk designs from her back catalog then smelted them in bronze, silver and gold to sell on site ($100-$1,500) in editions of between 10 and 100. The trailer, unfortunately, is strictly NFS.
